ICE BREAKER / GET ACQUAINTED GAMES

The first few times in a new class can be hard for a child when they don't know any of the other kids. Following are two (2) games that can help children to get to know their classmates.

“WHO AM I?”

1. Using one ½ sheet of paper for each name, write several names of men and women from the bible. Use different colored paper for the boys and girls.
2. Tape one of the sheets on the back of each child WITHOUT letting them see what the name is. Put men's names on the boy's backs and women's names on the girl's backs.
3. Tell the kids NOT to tell anyone what the name is on their back.
4. A child can ask ONLY two (2) questions of three (3) different classmates. Questions are to be “hints” (i.e. “Am I in the Old Testament?”, “Am I a prophet?”, “Am I one of the twelve disciples?”, “Did I leave Egypt with the Children of Israel to go to the promised land?”, etc.)
5. The child who is asked the question, looks at the name written on the questioner's back and answers it. Answers should mostly yes or no ... Elaborating is allowed, but it is important that a child NOT give the name written on the questioner's back.
6. After asking the two (2) questions of one of the classmates, a child can guess who they are (i.e. “Am I Esther?”, “Am I David?”, etc.) or they can move on to the next classmate and ask two questions of them.

NOTE: You may want to vary the number of questions that can be asked depending on the age group you are teaching. Younger children will need the ability to ask more questions than older kids.

WHO'S WHO IN THE “JESUS LOVES YOU AND ME”?

Write “JESUS LOVES YOU AND ME” vertically on a piece of paper and draw a line next to each letter.

Give the kids 5-10 minutes to go around the room asking each other what their names are. If the name starts with one of the letters that spell “Jesus loves...” they write the name next to that letter. Only one name (first or last) can be used from one child.

INTERCHANGEABLE GAMES

Many games can be easily transformed to support different studies or themes by changing the questions.

The sample (see attachments) Bible Bingo games are geared for children that can read. Bible Bingo can be adapted for preschoolers by using pictures, symbols or stickers instead of words.

BIBLE BINGO

Bible Bingo is similar to regular bingo. Instead of using numbers, use individual words or short phrases related to the study

Pre-make the following:

1. One master for each child. Base this on your average size class (i.e. 20 kids = 20 masters).
2. One master list of all the words or phrases used.
(Recommend using at least 75-100 different line items.)

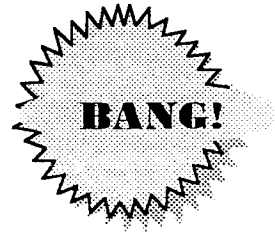

Note: If your class is large, and you do not want to make 30+ masters, try to make at least enough for 5/6th of your class. Otherwise, you will have a lot of winners!

1. Cut words and phrases on itemized list into strips and put in a container (be creative in container choice).
2. Pick one of the kids as the "caller" -- sit him/her in front of class by a board.
3. Tell kids to mark the "Free Space" in middle of card.
4. "Caller" picks a piece of paper from the box, reads it and gives the paper to the teacher.
5. Teacher writes the word or phrase on the board and puts the paper in a designated collections spot (i.e. another container, desk top, etc.)
6. The children mark off the appropriate box on their bingo sheet if they have the word/phrase. Use colored markers or pencils if they are available.
7. The first one to get bingo (line across, down or diagonal) calls out "BIBLE BINGO!"
8. Teacher checks the bingo sheet (#7) to verify winner.
9. Prizes are nice to give the winner(s) whenever possible.

NOTE:

If you use the Bible Bingo game frequently, you can laminate (self stick or by machine) the game cards. This allows you to use and reuse the cards repeatedly, while conserving paper (aka: "save the trees!").

Have children use either erasable markers or some type of token to "mark the squares" on the laminate game cards.

Use a different colored helium strength balloon for the Balloon Blast Game. Divide the class into teams of 4 whenever possible, but no less than 3.

BALLOON BLAST

1. Write 4 questions on pieces of paper, copy 1 set for each team, color code, put in balloons and fill balloons with air.
2. If possible, put each team at separate tables.
3. Have each team choose a team captain.
4. Pass out balloons -- each team gets a different colored set.
5. Tell kids NO pencils, feet, jumping on balloons, etc., is allowed.
6. Standing, the kids put the balloon on their chair. When you say, "go", they sit on the balloon, exerting pressure until it POPS!
7. Each child answers his/her question.
8. When done, the team captain runs the team slips to the teacher.
9. The first team to the teacher gets 2 bonus points. Each right answer is worth 1 point. The team with the most points wins.

There is a whole variety of A-Z BOARD GAMES ... People, places, fins - feathers - fur (sea life, birds and animals). All in the bible, of course. Then, there is "The Minister's Cat!"

THE MINISTER'S CAT!

1. Write "THE MINISTER'S CAT IS A _____ CAT" on the board.
2. Write the letters "A - Z" on the board.
3. Starting at one side of the room, ask the first child to read the sentence filling in the blank with an adjective that starts with the letter "A".
4. Encourage the kids to use their imaginations and come up with an interesting looking or acting minister's cat.
5. The second child does the same as the first, filling in the blank with a word that begins with a "B", and so on through "Z".

“BIBLE BASEBALL” can be a class favorite, enjoyed by boys and girls alike, during the baseball season.

BIBLE BASEBALL

Due to the length of time it can take to play Bible Baseball, it is recommended that you plan on playing only 3-4 innings per game.

1. Make 3 bases, a home plate and pitchers mound out of construction paper or other materials.
2. Use masking tape to tape off a baseball diamond on the floor.
3. Attach bases to appropriate spots on the floor, or use sides of desks if working in a small area.
4. Divide the class in two (2) teams.
5. Let each team pick a team name; write the team names on the board.
6. Kids come up to bat in the order they are standing in line.
7. A child picks a single, double, triple or home run hit. Ask the appropriate question. If answered correctly, they move to base. (i.e. single to first, double to second, etc.)
8. If the question is answered wrong, they “strike out”. Only one (1) try for a “hit” per trip to the bat.
9. The team with the most runs at the end of the game wins.

NOTE: The questions get harder the further they hit. Singles are the easiest questions and home runs are the hardest.

There are BRAIN TEASER GAMES to put your classes brain cells to the test ... Bible Pictionary and Bible Charades are two such games. Gear questions to study or theme.

BIBLE Pictionary (DRAWN) --- BIBLE CHARADES (ACTED OUT)

1. Cut words or phrases from pre-made up list in strips and put in a container.
2. If class is shy, you go first. If not, pick lots/choose a number to determine who goes first.
3. First child up pulls a strip from container, holds up correct number of fingers to tell class how many words -- class responds “3” to 3 fingers (hopefully).
4. Then, the first child holds up the number of fingers which corresponds to which word they are going to do first (i.e. 2 fingers = second word).
5. Child “DRAWS A PICTURE” (for Pictionary) or ‘ACTS OUT’ (for Charades) the word.
6. When the word is guessed correctly, the child moves to another word.
7. The class can call out what they think the answer is at any time.
8. First child to get the Picture or Charade right, gets to go next.
9. If you go through your whole repertory of questions and the class wants to keep going, have the kids create their own questions ... with a biblical slant, of course.

TRIPLES:

“Tic-Tac-Bible” is a game that the participants can really become a part of ...
Literally!!!

AND

“TIC - TAC - BIBLE”

Kids can really “get into this game”...

Create a list of questions, and applicable answers, geared toward the bible study, a book you are doing a walk thru or a theme (i.e. Armour of God, Gifts of the Spirit, Adventures of Paul, etc.)

1. Use masking tape to mark a Tic-Tac-Toe (oops, I mean Tic-Tac-Bible) square on the floor. Make it large enough for the kids to stand inside the square to form the Tic-Tac-Bible.
2. Have pre-made sheets marked with “X’s” and “O’s”. (Different colored paper)
3. Divide the class into two (2) teams.
4. Ask the kids to pick team names; write the team names on the board.
5. Kids are up for a question by the order that they’re standing in line - first one first, second one second, and so on down the line.
6. Team members CANNOT help one another answer a question or tell a child where to stand (square to pick) in the Tic-Tac-Toe square.
7. Draw lots/pick a number to determine which team goes first. Alternate questions between the two (2) teams.
8. Ask the first child a question.
9. If answered right, the child positions himself/herself in the Tic-Tac-Bible square themselves (no help from the audience) holding their “X” or “O”.
10. If a child does not answer the question right, they go to the back of the line and the question is asked of the other team. If that team cannot answer, go back to the first team and ask a different question.
11. When three (3) children with a “X” or “O” make up a Tic-Tac-Bible (across, down or diagonal), they call out “TIC-TAC-BIBLE” and win that round.
12. Prizes for the three (3) winners is nice, if possible.
13. You can do as many rounds as time, or desire to continue playing, allows.

NOTE: If a child answers, “I don’t know”, that counts as passing. The question then passes to the other team. If both teams say, “I don’t know”, shelf the question, go back to the first team and ask a new question.
